INTRODUCTION

About fifty years ago, Dr. Henry Tingley, No. 387, began to collect a record of the early Tingleys. He was assisted by Samuel Tingley, No. 167, and continued at this work, more or less, for many years, until old age and failing health forced him to relinquish the task. About that time Prof. Jeremiah Tingley, No. 963, visited this part of the country. He had been looking up his ancestors in New Jersey and was much interested in the subject. Dr. Tingley, in hopes that the Professor would complete what he had commenced, gave to him his record. This record the Professor promised to either publish or return. Many years have passed and gone; the Doctor has gone to his reward, the Professor, himself grown old and very feeble, has long ago given up all hopes of ever completing his task. The records are either scattered, lost or destroyed.

The present compiler began many years ago to collect the record of his immediate relatives; first, the descendants of his grandfather, and then of his great-grandfather Tingley, in both the male and female lines, something that had never before been attempted with the Tingley family. This work grew in size as it was carried back another generation or two.

In the Spring of 1906, fire destroyed a part of this record, and in trying to replace it, I discovered that I had the only record of the early Tingleys that could be found in existence. Fearing that some calamity might overtake the remainder of my record, I resolved to have it printed; first bringing it down to date and making it as complete as possible.

With this end in view, I sent out a number of letters to distant relatives, asking them to help me in the work and to send whatever records they might possess, and also send me the addresses of others who might aid me in the work.

The result was amazing; letters poured in from all sides, not only containing records, but giving the address of persons before unknown to me. The work grew by leaps and bounds. In one year the amount of material had doubled; in another year it had doubled again. Many entire branches of the family, before unknown to me, were found, and I soon saw that I had a gigantic task before me. Already I have devoted to this work more time than I can well spare, and now am obliged to bring my labors to a close, despite the fact that much remains to be found and recorded. I therefore submit what I have, imperfect as it is, in hopes it may prove of help to some more fortunate person, who in the future may write a more full and complete history of the Tingley race.

The name was formerly spelled either Tingle or Tingley, and it is a local name in Yorkshire, England. Whether the family gave the name to the town or the town to the family, is not known. The name is not common in England to-day, but there are still representatives of it here and there to be found at the present time.

Palmer Tingle, the first of the name to come to America, was a good Churchman, as the certificate he brought with him showed. His given name, Palmer, was doubtless derived from the family of Palmers, who lived near Kingston on Thames. An old family, and he may have been related to them.

It is very disappointing that no record of Palmer's death or marriage can be found and that there is no proof of his being Samuel's father. Although New England has been searched over so many times by historians and genealogists, still from time to time new records are being brought to light and published. I yet live in hopes that at some future time even this mystery will be explained to the satisfaction of us all.

Wyman, in preparing his Genealogy and Estates of Charlestown, Mass., searched all of the available records, and it is doubtful if any farther information can be found.

The will of the widow Barrett is the most important proof we have in regard to the early Tingleys. She died in 1681 and left property to her children by James Barrett and also to her two grandsons, Samuel and Thomas Tingley, the children of her son, Samuel Tingley, by his wife, Elizabeth Call. This proves that she was Samuel's mother. Her father was Stephen Fosdick, who came from Lincolnshire, England, prior to 1635 and settled in Charlestown, Mass., with his children and his second wife. Anna or Hannah, as she was sometimes called, was born about 1614, and as her oldest child by Barrett was born in 1644, there is ample time for her to have had another husband and child before her marriage to Barrett. Some of her descendants by James Barrett are still to be found in New Hampshire and Vermont, and doubtless the Barretts of Susquehanna County, Pa., are of this family.

Samuel was married Sept. 20, 1663, doubtless when young. He soon died, Dec. 28, 1666, leaving a son, Samuel, and the next July another son was born, named Thomas, after his grandfather Call.

This Thomas Call came from Faversham, Kent, England, in 1636, with his wife, Bennett, and children. After the death of Bennett, Thomas married Joanna, widow of Daniel Shepardson, a neighbor at Charlestown, Mass. A son of Thomas' married a daughter of Daniel Shepardson, and after the death of Samuel Tingley, his widow, Elizabeth, married Daniel Shepardson, Jr. Thus the two families became almost identical.

The whole family left Charlestown for Attleboro in 1691. Attleboro was then a frontier fort against the Indians, on the road from Boston and Plymouth to the Providence Plantations. It was in the town of Rehoboth, but so near the Providence line, that the church doctrines of that Colony prevailed and the Shepardsons and Tingleys became staunch Baptists, and the majority of them adhere to that belief to this day.

As Daniel Shepardson, Jr., was the only one of the Shepardsons who left sons, all of the Shepardsons in America are supposed to be the descendants of Elizabeth Call-Tingley and her second husband, Daniel, Jr. Thus she became the common mother of all of the Tingleys and Shepardsons in America. Dr. Francis Wayland Shepardson, of the University of Chicago, has been collecting data of the Shepardson family many years.

Samuel Tingley, the second, married Martha, maiden name unknown. He married her before he came to Attleboro and no record of the marriage has been found. Four children are all that can be found for him—a daughter, Martha, who married Joseph Allen, and three sons, Samuel Daniel and Ebenezer.

Thomas Tingley married Esther Stevens of Rehoboth. Her paternal grandfather, Francis Stevens, was one of the original proprietors of Rehoboth North Purchase, afterwards Attleboro, and her maternal grandfather, Gilbert Books, came in the ship Blessing, and was one of the founders of Scituate, Mass. Esther had three sisters and two brothers, but I fail to find any trace of any of their descendants. Four children are all that can be found for Thomas. One daughter, Elizabeth, who, strange to say, died single at the age of 73—something not often known in that age, and, besides, she was an heiress of considerable estate. There were three sons, Timothy, Ephraim and Thomas. Thomas, Jr., died at the age of 21.

In the next generation, Samuel the third married Hannah Pidge of Dedham and had, first, Samuel, who had a large family of twelve and whose descendants are still to be found at Attleboro and vicinity; second, Daniel, who left two daughters. No record of his descendants; third, Benjamin, died aged 16; fourth, Hannah, who married Elkanah Lane and through her daughter, Luse Carpenter, left a numerous progeny in Pennsylvania and the West. Her other children's descendants I have failed to find; fifth and sixth, Martha and Esther, of whom nothing is known, and seventh, Josiah a soldier of the French War and for his services obtained a grant of a part of the land confiscated by the British in Arcadia. At the time of the Revolution he was a staunch Royalist. The Rebels drove his family into the woods, where his son, Agreen, was born, but the Loyalists rallying, they conquered the Rebels and thus saved Nova Scotia for the Crown. I have failed to get a very complete record of some of his descendants, as many of them have scattered over the western part of Canada and the United States and are thus lost. It was also difficult to get replies from those left at home. Enough has been collected so that any member of this branch of the family who knows the name of their father and grandfather, will have no trouble in establishing their line of descent.

The next one in the fourth generation was Daniel, who left Attleboro for New York City. A letter from him dated 1732 tells that he had been the father of twelve children, all of whom were dead except Samuel, a sea captain, and Elizabeth, who married David Cox. Her descendants I fail to find. Of the children of Samuel, the sea captain, I find Samuel, a minister of the Established Church at St. Martins, Delaware, and his sister, Katherine, the wife of David Hall, Governor of Delaware. Their descendants are found in Philadelphia and vicinity.

The next of the fourth generation was Ebenezer, who followed his brother Daniel and settled in New Jersey. The immediate descendants of Ebenezer are difficult to find trace of. I employed the services of a skilled genealogist, but few records could be found and many of them very confusing. The sons of Ebenezer named many of their children the same names, which added to the confusion. Many of these served in the Revolution and for their services accepted lands in Ohio and western New York and Pennsylvania. Their descendants are scattered over all of the Western States, and many are hard to find. I have done the best I could with the material at hand and hope that some member of this branch of the family will correct the many mistakes I have made and complete the task I have begun.

Of the children of Timothy the first, Thomas, married Martha Day of Attleboro and nearly all of his children came to Pennsylvania following the great immigration from Attleboro, Mass., to Harford, Pa., except Patty Pierce, of whose descendants I would be glad to learn. The second, Pelatiah, became a noted preacher and left descendants in Maine and Ohio. The daughters married into prominent Attleboro families, and the descendants of the sons, Araunah and Nathan, are still to be found in Massachusetts.

The last of the fourth generation was Ephraim, of Coventry, R. I. He had a family of seven daughters and one son. I have found but one family descended from him, and I hope, if there are any others, that they will write to me and let me know of their history.

I wish to thank all who have assisted in this work. While some have done more than others, still all have done what they could and so are deserving of equal thanks. I wish to thank you not only for the records collected, but also for the many letters of cheer and encouragement, without which I would have given up my task long ago.

It is my wish that this book may give as much pleasure to its readers as it did to me in compiling it.

Anyone finding any mistakes in these records or having additional records of any family of Tingley blood, is earnestly requested to communicate the same to the compiler, R. M. Tingley, Herrick Center, Pa.

“A painful work it is and more than difficult, wherein what toyle hath been taken, as no man thinketh, so no man believeth, but he that hath made the trial.”—Anthony A. Wood.

FIRST GENERATION

1. PALMER TINGLE of Ipswich, Mass., born in 1614, came from Kingston-on-Thames, England, in ship Planter, April, 1635. He was in Ipswich in 1639, when he received a grant of eight acres in reward for his services in the war against the Pequod Indians in 1637. No record can be found of his death or marriage. He is claimed as the husband of Anna Fosdick, because he is the only person of the name of Tingle living in the Colonies at that time of suitable age to be her husband. He brought with him a certificate from the minister of Kingston-on-Thames, stating that he was no subsidy man, and testifying to his conformity. He is supposed to have married, between 1635-1640, Anna or Hannah, daughter of Stephen Fosdick of Charlestown, Mass., who came from Lincolnshire, England, to Charlestown, Mass., in 1635 with his children and his second wife, Sarah Wetherell. Anna was born in 1615 and died in 1681. She married for her second husband, James Barrett of Charlestown. She had by him seven children: James, Mary (Mrs. John Ross), Hannah (Mrs. John Scolley), Stephen, John and Sarah (Mrs. Simon Grover).
